

Playing Games At The Historical Society's Tent

by Lynne Belluscio

The Historical Society tent was filled with old fashioned toys and games during the Oatka Festival and a lot of folks stopped by to try their hand at crinkinole, Skittles, nine-pins and a variety of puzzles. We even brought out the knuckle-knocker and the stilts.

The tent provided a dry place during the rain on Saturday and a place in the shade on Sunday. The Historical Society would like to thank all of our volunteers who helped and also Stein Farms who once again loaned us their tent.

Getting a high score at skittles.

This puzzle is always a challenge.

The knuckle knocker.

This game went on for half an hour. Scott won.

Concentrating on the game of Crinkinole.

It's easy if you know the secret.
