

LeRoy Historical Society

Architecture Resources

Finding Aid For Resources Held In the LHS Library

Books:

Shelf 9: Books on general architecture, architecture dictionary, styles of architecture, & barns.

Shelf 3:

The Architecture of the Genesee Valley - Carl Schmidt 1975.

Cobblestone Landmarks of New York Olaf William Shelgren, Jr.; Cary Lattin; Robert W. Frasch - 1978

Nineteenth Century Houses in Western New York – Jewel Helen Conover 1966.

The Architectural Heritage of Genesee County, NY - Landmark Society of Genesee County.

Shelf 4:

Genesee County History Department Reference Guide for Property Research – Susan Conklin 1991
Information on early land tracts and records, where to find deeds, mortgages, etc.

Architectural Development of LeRoy – Carl & Ann Schmidt – Histories of specific LeRoy homes and buildings.

National Register of Historic Places – LeRoy Downtown District Information on specific buildings and homes on Main St. LeRoy.

The Photographic Record of Homes In LeRoy: An Index to Sources – William Lane 1991 – References to sources in the LHS postcard collection, Chapman Photos (1940), LeRoy in 1940 book, Building Structure Inventory of 1979.

LeRoy in 1940 Photographic Record of LeRoy houses and businesses in 1940.

Index to LeRoy in 1940

LeRoy's Landmark Heritage - Albert McVean

Shelf 4 cont.

Architectural Survey of LeRoy in 1976 Vol. 1-3 - (Blue Binders) Information on specific homes in LeRoy.

Directories – Genesee County, Batavia, LeRoy

Phone Books – Rochester, Batavia, LeRoy

Shelf 5:

Wyoming County: An Architectural Tour - James Yarrington, 1985.

Wyoming County 1870- 1871 Directory – Hamilton Child 1994

Maps:

Early maps featuring property lines can be found in the map case and end drawers of the table just inside the library. An 1854 & 1854 wall map of LeRoy are located in the Archives.

Other Resources:

Other information and images for architecture, businesses, and homes can be found in the top row of the filing cabinet under the windows, the Postcard Collection, and the Photograph Collection in the LHS library.